

Some aims of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) were to make sure that:

- the law treats us all fairly
- we all have a right to education.

- Marcus Rashford is a footballer who campaigns to end child poverty in the UK.

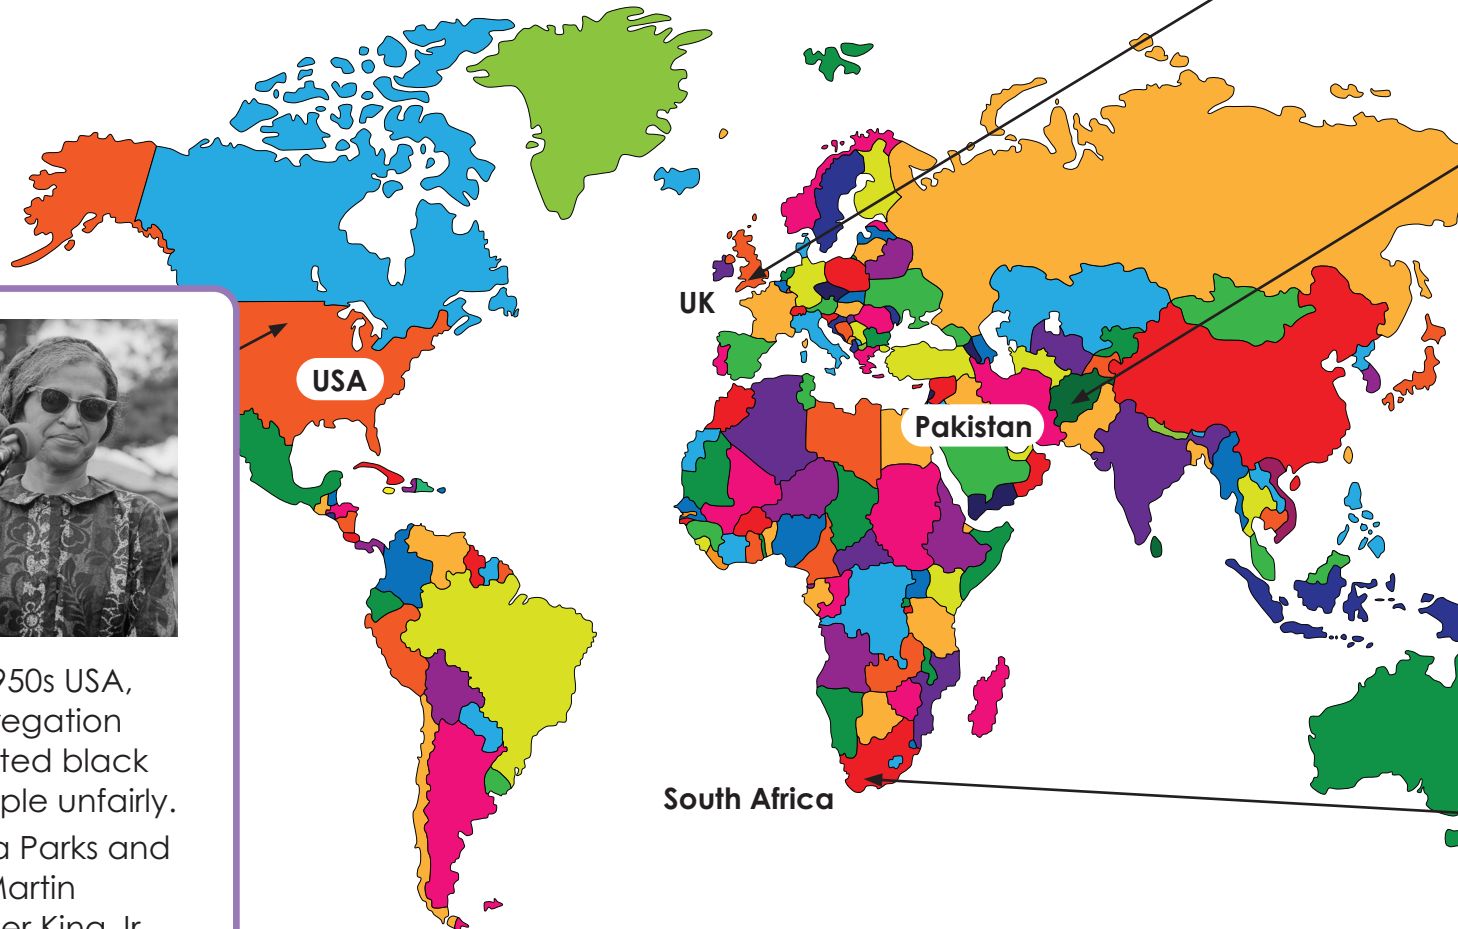

- Malala Yousafzai campaigns for girls' education.
- In 2012, she was shot by the Taliban in Pakistan for speaking up against inequality.
- Malala started the Malala Fund to help girls have equal opportunities.

- In 1950s USA, segregation treated black people unfairly.
- Rosa Parks and Dr Martin Luther King Jr campaigned to end segregation.

- Apartheid treated black people in South Africa unfairly.
- Nelson Mandela fought apartheid.
- He became the first black president of South Africa.

Word	Definition
apartheid	The political policy that used to be practised in South Africa of keeping people of different races apart.
campaign	A planned series of actions, especially to get someone to support you or become interested in something.
civil rights	The rights of citizens, especially to have freedom, equality, and the right to vote.
equality	Being equal.
human rights	Rights that all humans are born with that serve basic needs.
important	Having great effect, value, authority, or influence.
inequality	Not being equal.
leader	Someone who leads or is in charge.
opportunity	A good time or chance to do something.
poverty	Being poor.

Word	Definition
president	The head of a country that is a republic.
protest	A statement or action that shows that you disapprove of something.
punished	To receive a penalty.
racism	Discrimination against or hostility towards people of other races.
segregation	When people of different races or religions are kept apart and made to live separately.
significant	Having a meaning or importance.
Taliban	Political Islamic group that came to power in the mid-1990s in Afghanistan.
target	Something that you aim at to try and hit or reach.
Universal Declaration of Human Rights	The first international document that outlined the rights that everyone has.