

Widmer End Community Combined School Reading for Pleasure Spine Summary

The following is a collection of books I would love all children to enjoy having read to them as they journey through primary school. No pressure to write anything, do a load of reading lessons on, link to any topic or any of the other things that happen that can sometimes spoil the pleasure that comes when just enjoying a good book. These are all just great books that will encourage loads of natural discussion as you read!

The list is by no means exhaustive and will change/be added to over time. This is intended as a strong starting point!
